MUSKETEERS LOSE IN FINAL PERIOD; LONE MARKER PUSHED ACROSS BY MARINES; 10,000 SEE CONTEST

XAVIER SURPRISES FANS BY FIGHT AGAINST SOLDIERS

Musketeers Appear Better Team in First Half.

"DOPE-BUCKET" UPSET

Team-Play Characterized Game; No Individual Stars.

By William M. Oline

Coach Joe Meyer's Musketeers met their first defeat of the 1928 football season last Saturday afternoon on Corcoran Field, when 14,000 people saw the United States Marine Corps of Quantico, Virginia take the thrilling contest by a 6-0 score.

The Musketeers played a wonderful game of football, improving greatly over their efforts of the first three games of the current season. The dopests about town had conceded the Marine team an easy victory, but that old Musketeer spirit became aroused in the team to such an extent that they completely outplayed the Devil Dogs throughout the major part of the game. It was surprising to the spectators that, apparently weak, Xavier team could show so much strength—previous to Saturday's game this year's team had been looked upon as an "off-year" team, but such false impressions were completely disproved by the machine like manner in which the Musketeers executed their plays. It was noticeable that for the first time this year the passing attack really amounted to something. McDevitt and Foley both hurled passes to O'Hara and O'Bryan for big gains.

No Stars

The entire Xavier team played a brilliant game and it is rather difficult to choose any individual stars. Captain "Chippy" Cain ran the team in beautiful style and the way that he returned punts was just choice. Harry Foley and Frank McDevitt again shone with their fine offensive work, while "Kenny" Schaefer, the third member of that strong sophomore trio, played his usual steady defensive game. Frank O'Bryan, playing his first game at end, and "Eddie" O'Hara were also in the line. The middle part of that line—Ralph Bolger, McHenry, Starnan, and Stobbery were almost impenetrable, except for a slight weakening in the last quarter.

As for the Marines there were no individual ones really outstanding—Levey, who did most of the damage in the 1927 contest managed to get loose a couple of times, but was stopped in his tracks for the most part. The great Shapley, former all American at Annapolis, was also stopped without much trouble. The heavy Marine team was just tough in all stages of the game, the muddy field aiding their style of play to perfection.

In the first quarter the teams exchanged punts almost immediately after the opening kick off the ball ending up in Xavier's possession on the Marine 35 yard line when "Clip" Cain filled through the Seamen in returning Levey's punt. McDevitt then passed to O'Bryan for a gain of 13 yards after Foley had made two off tackles, placing the play on the Marine 8 yard line and the Xavier rooters were in an uproar. Here the Musketeer attack failed and on the fourth down McDevitt missed a goal from placement the heavy field and the mud on the ball making it almost impossible to kick. The Marines then failed to gain and Levey punted to Cain who first downed in two plays, but on the next play, Shapley intercepted McDevitt's pass on his own ten yard line. Levey then punted and Xavier was penalized 25 yards on the play, putting the ball back on X's own 21 yard line. McDevitt then scooped off 18 yards around right end carrying the ball almost to midfield. After failing to gain on two plays, Schaefer then punted to the Marine 20 yard line, from where Levey kicked to Cain past the center of the field—the Marines were called for clipping on the play bringing the oval to within 24 yards of the Marine goal—here the first quarter ended.

Fast Work

Cain opened the second quarter with a pass to O'Hara, who dove about five yards to catch the ball lying on the ground—it was a beautiful play on Eddie's part. McDevitt then made 7 yards to put the sphere just 8 yards away from the Quantico goal. But fast was against Xavier and on the next play Levey intercepted a pass and brought it back to the 28 yard line. The Marines failed to gain and Levey punted to Cain who was downed on our 33 yard line. On the first down Foley made 2 yards but Xavier was penalized 10 for roughness adjudged unnecessary by Referee Boese. Schaefer made up for the penalty on an off tackle play, but there was still nine yards to go for a first down and "Kenny" then punted to Levey, who was tackled on his own 49 yard mark. After one unsuccessful plunge at Xavier's line, the Devil Dogs became conservative and punted on second down, Captain Cain being downed on his 29 yard line. Schaefer punted after two attempts to gain through the sticky Marine line. "Wonder" O'Neill made a first down through the center of our line to bring the ball into Xavier territory, but on the next play O'Hara recovered Shapley's attempted pass and the Musketeer had the ball on their own 47 yard line. McDevitt then hurled a beautiful pass to O'Bryan for a 26 yard gain, bringing the ball to the Marine 28 yard line. On the next play Shapley, a Leatherneck, sub intercepted Foley's pass but was downed immediately and then the ball coded. As the Musketeer players wended their way to the dressing rooms the spectators arose as a body and gave them a tremendous cheer in appreciation of their plucky play. Some of the pre-game pessimists were finding it hard to realize that the Musketeer eleven had actually outplayed these same Marines who were supposed to defeat our men by three or four touchdowns.

Marines Slow

The Musketeers made but few yards in three stabs at that bulky Devil Dog line and again Schaefer punted, this time the ball slopping on the Marine 38 yard mark. The referee then caught someone holding on the next play and Xavier was penalized 15 yards, giving the Marines the ball and first down on our 23 yard line. Quarterback Woods then made 6 yards in two line plunges, and O'Neill made it a first down carrying the ball to our 19 yard line. The Musketeers then held for three downs, but on the fourth Woods threw a pass to Foley for a 13 yard gain. O'Neill then gained two of the six yards necessary for a touchdown, but the Xavier line was fighting and held the Marines to no gain on the next two plays and the fans were hoping for the best. O'Neill then ruined the day for us by carrying the ball over the last white line on a delayed buck, and our soldier guests had an opportunity to make some noise, which they did. Captain Cain chose to receive the kick-off and Schaefer received it on our 35 yard mark and ran it back ten yards. On the second down Foley intercepted Foley's pass and was downed on the Leathernecks' 44 yard line. Woods then tossed a pass to Levey for ten yards, and Woods made it two first downs to momentum by crashing through the center of our line for 12 yards to bring the ball to X's 25 yard line. Here O'Neill fumbled and the Musketeers recovered, only to lose the ball on downs. The Sea Devils advanced to our fourteen yard line, but the timer's gun intervened and the game was over—and every Musketeer fan went home proud.

MOTTO — TO SERVE XAVIER

Glorious In Defeat—

Glorious in victory, more glorious in defeat. Such are the Musketeers. No team ever demonstrated the fact that defeat can be as sweet as victory than did the Musketeers on Saturday last, when they acknowledged by a single touchdown the superiority of a great team of Marines from Quantico. The "devil-dogs" came with the best of armaments for what they rightly expected to be a thrilling land-encounter—experience, weight, strategy, and physique that are the pride of Uncle Sam's training. The Musketeers, on the defensive, armed mostly with pluck, fight, and indomitable courage, and handicapped by the "elements" in their best attack plan—the forward pass, took the field with a stupendous battle before them.

"All for one and one for all" dining in the minds of those green-clad warriors is the immortal secret of their success. Captain Cain as leader in that symphony of valor was as successful in stirring his team-mates to heroism as any Musketeer captain ever has been. It is strikingly evident that Coach Meyer has again in the process of duplication the great teams of the past few years.

BETWEEN GOAL POSTS

By George E. Winter:

Kansas Conference rules allow member teams to play freshmen on the varsity squad. As a consequence Kansas Wesleyan will have this added advantage over the Musketeers who are handicapped by the Ohio Conference rules which bar freshmen as varsity team members. Playing four years under the direction of Coach Brown, a number of the Kansas gridmen have developed into stars of the first-water whereas such development would not have been so pronounced had they been limited to three years of college participation. The Kansas ruling is also an advantage in playing a likely looking "fresh" because of his weight or ability. There are about half-dozen fresh in the Kansas team's squad and a number may see service against St. Xavier Saturday.

Development of capable reserve strength, especially on the line, will engage Coach Joe Meyer and his staff of football professors at the Cincinnati Field house this week. Although fairly satisfied with the regular eleven, Coach Meyer believes that the development of reserve strength must be effected immediately if the Musketeers are to carry on against their many worthy opponents. No team can go through the stiff schedule which St. Xavier will face with only 11 men available. The remaining games will be either won or lost by St. Xavier on the showing of reserve material. Dave Harmon, center, may work out at guard this week to add weight to the forward wall. With Bill Jackson in his usual sound health there is little opportunity for "Hud" Harmon to show his wares. Harmon weighs 195 pounds and is too good a lineman to hold on the bench when St. Xavier needs plenty of beef on the forward wall to stop the thrusts of opponent back-field men.

TO TRY OUT

Tryouts for leads in "Winterland", musical comedy to be presented by the Old Club and the Masque Society, music and dramatic organizations, St. Xavier College, will be held Friday, John King Rhoads, faculty moderator for the presentation, has indicated. According to present plans, the extravaganza which will have a cast of more than 100 students, will be presented about the middle of January.

NEWS OFFICE

The Xavierian News office is shortly to be renovated. As soon as the members of the staff get their domestic tendencies working, our present classroom will be turned into an office fit for a king—a good big king too, that can afford any kind of an office he chooses. It will not be done in a strictly business style—ahem—we are literary men, not bookers, and the environment must suit our artistic leanings.

XAVIER HIGH TRIMS DAYTON CATHOLIC

Game Played at Corcoran Field—Pucky Team.

On Friday, last our noble grid representatives met and defeated the Pucky crew from Champlin High of Dayton, Ohio, by the count of 13-0. The game was played at Corcoran field before a fairly large and enthusiastic crowd of High and College students. The strength of the team was greatly diminished by the loss of Mercurio, Thornbury and Brumber, all of whom were injured in the Louisville game. At any rate, Mr. Savage came through with a fighting plucky crew who put up a peach of a game.

St. X started well by marching down the field in the first quarter until they reached the shadow of the goal posts, here Kovacs stopped a fumble and kicked the apple away for a touchdown. Elbert made a beautiful placement kick for the extra point.

The second touchdown was scored in the second period, when after a rapid advance down the grid, Deane went over on a spectacular forward pass. Elbert missed the goal by a few inches.

The third quarter was merely a punting duel though St. X. had all the best of it. In the fourth period Dayton hurled caution to the winds and opened an aerial attack, which, coupled with a few and time brought them to within three yards of the Xavier goal. The line, however put up a wonderful defense and held. Saturday the team will meet the Hamilton Catholic High.

In chapel on Friday afternoon, Father Brown spoke on the intercession of the saints with God for us, and said also that each man could pray in his special way to the saints. His talk was occasioned by the nearness of All Saint's Day.

LIBRARY

Is Managed By A Capable Staff

NEW BOOKS

Recently the generous sum of five hundred dollars was expended for the purpose of improving the library. The library is one of the most essential departments of the school and therefore deserves recognition and patronage. It is managed by a capable staff who are always in readiness to serve the students efficiently, and to their entire satisfaction.

The new volumes include history, biography, poetry and fiction. In the reference collection, too, there are numerous additions, such as Grangers "Index to Recitations" and the Lincoln "Library of Essential Information." The former is an asset to any educationist, and the latter can be used by almost anyone, since it contains information on all subjects.

Catholic Encyclopedia.

There is also to be found, a new revised set of the "Catholic Encyclopedia" without which no Catholic library is complete. A "Dictionary of Authors" in four volumes has also been obtained. These books give the dates of an author's birth and death, a brief account of his life, and enumerates the more important of his works. Volumes are daily placed on the "New Book" shelf for inspection. The library maintains another shelf entitled "Worth While Reading" and here many of the students with literary tastes may find the food which that type of mental machinery requires. The magazine rack, too, has become quite popular. It contains many of the nationally known periodicals which are in constant demand. It is hoped that the library will prove to be as popular with the students this year, as it has been in the past.

OFFICIAL CAR

It was noticed that at the Dayton Game there was an official car. The drivers, when they came to school in the morning drove about the yard in circles, and narrowly missed the editor. For the benefit of the official chauffeurs, we may say that the editor knows how to drive an automobile in circles, and he has done quite a bit of fender-grazing in his day.

Xavier-Marine Notes

The contest marked the first time since the Haskell game in 1923 that the Musketeers have failed to score. It was Xavier's third defeat in three years, Haskell defeating us in 1924, the Marines in 1927, and the St. Quantin team turning the trick again last Saturday.

The Band put on an entertaining exhibition between the halves, forming a huge M in honor of our opponents and an X of the same size for the Musketeers. Majordomo "Bill" Bass strutted around like a peacock and received the plaudits of the spectators just as he did the week previous. The Musketeer band had plenty of competition, for all told there were four bands on hand—The Musketeers, the Port Thomas band, The Knights band, and the American Legion band. It was undoubtedly one of the most colorful spectacles ever seen on Corcoran Field.

The St. Xavier Football Program staff headed by St. Wirt Russell and Robert A. Ruthman published a special Navy Day edition of the program for the Musketeer-Marine game. The cover of the publication carried a likeness of Alvin Karpis, famous Marine mascot, presented to the Leathernecks by Gene Tunney, undefeated heavyweight champion.

The Musketeers have been particularly unfortunate this year so far as penalties are concerned, for it seems that every time we make a good gain, the referee imposes some penalty that almost offsets the gain made.

Before the game a Marine airplane flew along over Corcoran Field and dropped a football, which was presented to Mayor Murray Besenford. The ball came all the way from Quantico, Virginia, the plane making the trip in honor of Navy Day. The latter event was celebrated by the local divisions of Uncle Sam's forces by a review on Corcoran Field of the entire troop stationed at Port Thomas.

The Navy Day dinner dance at the Hotel Gibson was attended by the entire St. Xavier squad, who were the guests of the Robert E. Bentley post of the American Legion.

When McDevitt was called back on punt formation, the Marines evidently confused him with Schaefer, for they prepared for a kick, with the result that Schaefer slipped through for a gain of about 35 yards. Coach Keady immediately sent a substitute into the game to keep an eye on Schaefer in order to be prepared for any other plays on punt formation.

The rain all Saturday morning certainly played havoc with the crowd, for with a clear day there was little doubt but that the stands would have been filled. Furthermore a clear day would not have been injurious to the chances of the Musketeers, who are always at their best on dry days.

The flag decorating the East stands added quite a bit to the appearance of the stadium, and it is hoped that the officials in charge of the stadium will make them a regular feature at all our football games.

Captain "Chippy" Cain seems to improve with each game—he is expert at returning punts and calls the plays with no hesitation—and an interloper he has no equal. Lloyd Deddens, capable sub for Captain Cain, saw comparatively little service due to the constant play of the line, but Deddens another sophomore, already displays promise of developing into a real quarterback.
